Risk Management

PROTECTING WHAT MATTERS MOST

Life insurance is a way to provide for your loved ones when you're not around. The money they receive can be used to help pay for expenses, loss of income, debts, educational needs, mortgage payments, and more.

At our company, we answer questions like: How much insurance do I need? and What types of insurance are suitable for my situation? Our Financial Services Professionals are both knowledgeable and passionate about finding a strategy that's appropriate for you.

Term Life Insurance

Term insurance is an affordable coverage that offers protection for a specific number of years. Many people choose to supplement their permanent insurance with term insurance.

Benefits of Term Life Insurance

- Get the most amount of coverage at affordable prices
- Cover specific items like house payments or educational expenses
- Supplement permanent life insurance as needed

Permanent Life Insurance

Permanent life insurance is lifetime coverage with a potential to build equity (cash value), and has more options for flexibility.

- Whole Life Insurance - fixed premiums, guaranteed death benefit, and cash value growth.
- Universal Life Insurance - flexibility to change payments, premiums and death benefit options.
- Variable Universal Life Insurance - flexibility to change payments, premiums and death benefit; option to take investment risks in return for a possible higher cash value.
- Survivorship Life Insurance - provides a benefit to beneficiary after one person passes away.

Disability Services

SECURING YOUR FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE

Many people take out insurance policies for their homes and cars, but forget about their most important asset – the ability to work and earn a living. If you become ill or are injured and cannot work, disability insurance can help replace a portion of your income to help cover financial needs.

Types of Disability Insurance

- Individual Disability Income Insurance
- Employer-Provided Disability Income Insurance

When you can't work, disability insurance works for you!

Retirement Planning

NAVIGATING THE COMPLEXITIES OF RETIREMENT

Planning for retirement takes careful strategy. To get started, we'll take you through a step-by-step process to help determine your retirement needs. From there, we'll offer a plan that is suitable for you. At OneFlorida Financial Group, we want to help make sure this season of your life is truly rewarding.

Important Facts

There are usually three main sources of income to draw from at retirement:

1. Social security
2. Employer qualified retirement benefits
3. Personal savings and investments

Retirement planning consists of marshaling the resources from all three of these to assure a financially rewarding retirement.

Items We Address

- Qualified retirement plans in variety— defined benefit plans, defined contribution plans of the money purchased pension and profit sharing types, target benefit plans, Keogh plans for the self-employed, and section 401(k) plans
- Simplified employee pension plans (SEPs);
- SIMPLE retirement plans
- Individual retirement accounts or annuities (IRAs) including Roth IRAs
- Section 403(b) plans also called tax-sheltered annuities or TSAs
- Rollovers direct rollovers and direct plan-to-plan transfers
- Section 457 deferred compensation plans for certain employees in the government and not-for-profit sectors of the economy
- Pension income supplemental life insurance
- Qualified vs. Nonqualified Accumulations
- Incidental Life Insurance in Qualified Retirement Arrangements
- Profit-Sharing Arrangement
- Survivor Supplement Retirement Income Funded with Life Insurance

Charitable Giving

LEAVING A LASTING LEGACY

A charitable contribution is when you donate money (which can include securities or business ownership interests), goods or services to an organization and deduct the market value of this contribution on your income tax return.

Life insurance is often used in conjunction with charitable giving. But even when this is not the case, there are creative techniques that can be applied to charitable giving. When it comes to charitable giving, we have the knowledge and resources to help you make informative decisions with confidence.

Items We Address

- Charitable giving overview
- Rules for deducting charitable contributions
- Gift of life insurance policy
- The capital-replacement technique in which life insurance replaces assets committed to charity (AKA wealth replacement)
- Income tax charitable deduction
- Charitable remainder annuity trust vs. unitrust
- Charitable pooled income funds

- Charitable gifts of remainder interest in personal residences and farms
- Charitable gift annuities
- Charitable lead trusts
- Charitable giving and retirement assets
- Converting an asset to an income stream with a CRT
- Supplementing retirement income with a CRT
- Charitable gifts to public charities and private foundations

Long Term Care

PLANNING FOR CARE WITH CONFIDENCE

There are things most of us want as we get older – comfort, dignity, and a familiar setting. At OneAmerica Financial® we have options to help you pay for long-term care.

You want to live out the last days of your life as comfortably and with as much dignity as possible. Whether you prefer home health care or an assisted living situation, preparation can help you reduce the expense of long-term care.

Lack of long-term care coordination can lead to disputes within any family, regardless of its economic status.

The companies of OneAmerica Financial offer specific products, based on life insurance and annuities, which can provide long-term care benefits if care is needed. If you never need care, your asset passes to the next generation and becomes part of your legacy — making asset-based long-term care an alternative to traditional long-term care insurance.

Learn how to make financial decisions now that can help support your loved ones emotionally and financially. Contact us to find out more about these financial services.
